

CREATING ENGAGING DISCUSSIONS

Breaking down silos with learner-learner interaction

Student partners produce & post video, audio, slide-decks, infographics, etc.

Limit the size of discussion groups. In a large class, create a few small discussion groups.

Student teams explore case studies and report their findings.

Students teach their research findings.

Yes, because...

I respectfully disagree...

Divide your students into debate teams.

Use discussions to study for quizzes and exams.

Students create and participate in classroom surveys.

Students create and moderate discussions.

Design role-playing scenarios.